

The
Roadmap
Project

Patients with chronic conditions and their families cite emotional health needs as one of their top concerns.

Created with patients, families, clinicians, and psychologists, The Roadmap Project provides tools and resources to ensure addressing emotional health is a routine part of excellent care.

The Roadmap Project can help your organization validate and address emotional health by providing tools and resources that:

- Develop awareness among teams
- Build capability and confidence
- Share how to identify resources and make them available to patients and families
- Implement assessment and surveillance into clinic workflow
- And more!
